

Croytek was independently established in 1964 from a sub-division of Spicers, and specialises in supplying industry, electrical, mechanical and thermal protective materials. The company offers a large range of products and services and prides itself on its ability to service customer requirements accurately and rapidly. Our large stock-holding enables us to supply the majority of materials on a next-day delivery and our comprehensive in-house processing service allows the material to be supplied in whatever finished format is required.

The industries that the company supplies include electromotive, automotive, transportation, aerospace and domestic appliances, as well as many other varied sectors. The company prides itself on its quality and service and has an impressive record of working with industry in order to create solutions to manufacturing and logistical problems. Well experienced in lean manufacturing techniques such as Just In Time and Kanban systems, the company is able to support and benefit businesses involved in these areas.

The company has focused on new product development and is proud to be able to offer innovative and effective solutions to many manufacturing difficulties, and can give the added confidence of many approvals, including UL, CSA, BS, IEC and MIL Spec.
